CONCORD, N. H., July 3.—The only change in the ballot to-day was in favor of Ex-Cov. Bell, who gained two votes.

Chicago, July 3.—Delegates to the National Conference of Anti-Monopolists, to be held in this city to-morrow, are beginning to arrive, and there now promises to be a large representation from all Northern and Western States. There are many Greenbackers in attendance, but the general impression is that the great fight will be on the tariff question, the delegates from the Eastern States generally advocating protection and Western delegates free trade. While it is confidently asserted by the delegates that the platform for a new national party will be adopted, it is evident has many of those attending hold widely diverging views on various questions, and it remains for the actual proceedings of the Convention to determine what the proposed new party will admine what the proposed new party will ad vocate, and with what unanimity those at tending as delegates will subscribe to the views embodied in the platform.

Belly's Views of Tilden. Says the New York World: "Mr. John Kelly's remarks shout Mr. Tilden at a banquet tendered to him at Springfield, Mass., on Thursday evening, created a great deal of gossip in local political circles in this city and Brooklyn yesterday. Mr. Kelly returned to his office at No. 23 Park row yesterday afternoon and was called upon by a large number of personal and political triends. A reporter of the World saw him for a few moments. When saked about his Springfield speech he said that he had only Springfield speech he said that he had only reiterated what he had often said before he issued to the Democracy of the State a few weeks after the Presidential election of 1880. In this public address he attempted to show that Mr. Tilden and his followers and not Tammany Hall had proved transparent to General Presidential election of 1880. many Hall had proved treacherons to Gen. Hancock and caused his defeat. Mr. Kelly eaid that those who knew him personally scouted the infamous report that he had proved false to Hancock, while the figures branded the forehands of the men whose in-difference and treachery lost this S are and the Presidency with letters so plain and indelibe that hereafter Democrats who see one of them will point the finger and say, "There goes a traitor." Mr. Kelly next referred to a tabular statement of the votes cast in each county of the Scate for President in 1876 and 1880, with the Democratic and Republican majorities and the totals, including a table giving the votes and majorities by Congres The Mozarts have every resson to be proud of their closing entertainment, given at Leubrie's Theater last night. The chorus fully met the performers, vocal and instrumental. The chorus fully met the performers and their friends, who were encount, throughout the State, he asserts, would bave elected Hancock by a handsome major-tity. Of the sixty counties in the State, he said, Mr. Tidden had complete control of the Board to cancel and return the stock notes, and to cancel and return the stock notes, and to Democratic organizations in forty-nine, and that in some of these counties there had grown up a strong Democratic element, composed of men who cared more for the party and its principles than for Mr. Tilden, and in spite of the repressing influences of Mr. Tilden's management they showed small Democratic gains. Against this, however, sant Mr. Kelly, there was an actual decrease Tilden's management they showed small Democratic gains. Against this, however, said Mr. Kelly, there was an actual decrease of Demogratic votes in the counties under Mr. Tilden's direct control. Mr. Kelly also claims that heavy Republican gains were as a perceptible in the counties controlled by such well-smown Tiden agents as Lester B. Faulkaer and Smith M. Weed, and that all the facts demonstrate that while Tam-many Hall Democrats were working to elec-Gen. Hancock a subtle, silent and sinuster the great soldier's defeat.
